Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, 2023

Year in Review

I like to think of 2023 as the year that big, splashy musicals returned to Broadway Rose. After three years of cautious choices to weather the pandemic storm, the leadership team made the bold, strategic decision to invest some of our savings in larger productions to bring our audiences back. I loved seeing our return to the Deb Fennell Auditorium, where multi-generation audiences shared the magic of a theatrical experience. Our production of Rodgers + Hammerstein's Cinderella, in particular, brought in the energy of many young, first-time theatergoers. We created something beautiful that brought in all ages, and we did it with the quality that Broadway Rose continually strives for and delivers. In 2023, we saw our audience attendance start to rebound at a healthy pace.

The state of the arts in the Portland metro area, on a broad level, has struggled over the past four years as audiences are slow to return. Even with these challenges, we continue to believe it's more important than ever to entertain and provide a place of escape for theatergoers. Additionally, arts organizations must continue to lift one another up in a way that inspires creativity, joy, and togetherness. I'm immensely grateful for our successes in 2023, and hope they help pave the way for other arts communities to thrive.

We were delighted to welcome Meredith Gordon to the Broadway Rose team as executive director in October 2023. In addition to cultivating relationships with Broadway Rose donors, sponsors, and partners, Meredith is responsible for overseeing the administrative, financial, and operational aspects of the theatre company, ensuring its smooth functioning and ongoing growth. She plays a pivotal role in preserving financial stability and shaping the future of Broadway Rose while collaborating with Sharon Maroney and Dan Murphy on strategic and tactical decisions to support the artistic endeavors of the theatre.

Under expanded leadership, Broadway Rose looks forward to increased guidance in this next chapter. The upcoming season at the theater is nothing short of extraordinary—featuring a remarkable lineup of shows, one of which is the Broadway hit, Beautiful: The Carole King Musical. The production will include 20 performers and 12 live musicians bringing to life the inspirational story of the legendary musician. We believe this is a show that will appeal to a broad range of people, including first-time theatergoers.

We have enormous appreciation for our supporters and know great things lie ahead for Broadway Rose. Thank you to everyone who continues to uplift the arts—your contributions, kind words, and standing ovations mean the world to us. Community is at the heart of our work, which means you are a vital part of every production. We think that's pretty special.

Geoff Dougall
Board of Directors, President

Highlights

BACK TO A SIX-SHOW SEASON

Just like the good ol' days! We expanded our season back to the six live mainstage show season that our dedicated patrons missed during the pandemic. We were able to provide our audiences with engaging musical theatre performances all year long.

RETURN TO THE DEB FENNEL

We returned to the Deb Fennell Auditorium for the first time since 2018 with our productions of Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat and Cinderella. This venue hosts bigger audiences and allows us to support more patrons, increase ticket sales, and reach a more diverse array of theatregoers.

EXPANDED EDUCATION PROGRAMS

In 2023 we brought the 5th Avenue Educational Touring show to the New Stage which hosted 480 students and 20 teachers, administrators, and volunteers. We also hosted 14 educational programs for both adults and youth. That's more than three times as many as pre-pandemic and six more than 2022!

NEW EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Meredith Gordon joined the leadership team, bringing skills from the nonprofit sector and experience as a former musical theatre performer. Meredith will aid in administrative, financial, and operational aspects of the theatre company, ensuring its smooth functioning and growth.
